Where does Gorton's source its seafood?

Because different species require different water temperatures and growing conditions, Gorton's sources its seafood from various waters around the globe.

PRODUCTSRECIPESWE ARE GORTON'SRESPONSIBILITYWHERE

We also procure farm-raised aquaculture seafood, including tilapia and shrimp, from various countries, including Ecuador, China, Indonesia, Vietnam, and India.

Regardless of where our seafood is caught and processed, Gorton's uses the same strict, rigorous quality control processes, to ensure that we provide you with the safest, most wholesome, and delicious seafood products on the market.

What is the expiration date on my item?

Gorton's products do not have an expiration date. We use a "Best If Used By" and print it on each package. This date will be 15-18 months from the date of production. We recommend that you consume the product by this date for the best flavor and quality.

Can I consume the product after the Best if Used By Date?

Yes- however, we don't recommend it as we can't promise that products older than the "Best If Used By" date on the package will be of the same quality. The fish may be drier or the breadcrumbs or batter might be soggy than it would otherwise be. However, it is still perfectly safe to eat if cooked according to the directions on the package.

How long can I keep Gorton's in my freezer?

For optimal flavor and quality, use your Gorton's product before the "Best If Used By" date that is printed on the package. You can find the "Best If Used By" date on the back or side of the package.

Can I cook Gorton's Seafood products in the toaster oven?

Yes, you may use a toaster oven but appliances vary by brand and size; thus we cannot provide exact cooking time for every model. However, at Gorton's, we have tested various toaster oven models and recommend the same cook temperature as indicated on the package as a starting point. Please be sure to monitor the product closely and cook to the internal temperature required on the package for fully cooked fish. It may take longer or quicker than the time indicated on the package.

Is it safe to eat Gorton's product after it has been thawed?

No. Our products should be prepared only from a frozen state. Do not refreeze or cook any product which has thawed. If the product has thawed, immediately discard the product.
